On the main NINDS Community page, you will see the active campaigns in which you can participate.

The screenshot shows the NINDS Ideascale Community page. At the top, there are navigation links for 'WELCOME' and 'IDEAS'. Below this is a large welcome message: 'Welcome to the NINDS Ideascale Community'. The message states: 'NINDS wants to hear your ideas! Use this site to submit your ideas, add comments, and share your expertise on NINDS projects. We hope to hear from people from all backgrounds and perspectives to spur innovation and support our mission to reduce the burden of neurological disease. Explore the individual campaigns to see how YOU can contribute today!'. To the right of the welcome message is a search bar labeled 'Search Ideas' with a magnifying glass icon and a link to 'Advanced Search'. Below the search bar is a section titled 'Active Campaigns' with a dropdown arrow. Underneath, there are three campaign cards: 'Transformative Research Prio...', '2020 Epilepsy Research Ben...', and 'BRAIN Initiative Challenge: C...'. Below the campaigns is a 'Recent' section with a dropdown arrow. It displays three recent posts. The first post is by Brian Litt, dated 10/20/20, with the title 'Collaborative Tech for Epilepsy Surgery, Devices and Therapies'. The second post is by Kim Nye, dated 10/20/20, with the title 'Parents driving precision therapies for genetic epilepsies'. The third post is by Yuse DeWit, dated 10/20/20, with the title 'No Time to Spare: Re-envisioning ASM Selection in DEEs'. At the bottom right of the page, there is a yellow 'Contact' section with a dropdown arrow, containing the email address 'NINDSIdeaScaleSupport@mail.nih.gov'. This section is highlighted with a red dashed border. Below the contact section are 'Social Web' and 'Subscribe' sections, each with a dropdown arrow. The 'Subscribe' section lists 'New Ideas RSS Feed' and 'Top Ideas RSS Feed'.

If you have any issues or questions, you can contact the NINDS IdeaScale support team using the e-mail address provided on the website.
